

Two Truths and One Lie

Items Needed: Discussion Board on a Learning Management System (LMS) or a Social Networking Website (like Facebook)

Time Needed: One Week (Typically Monday to Friday OR Monday to Sunday)

Typical Prompt: Welcome to [Name of Course]. I am excited to have the pleasure of working with each of you this semester! Let's meet one another through an activity titled, "Two Truths and One Lie". The first part of this assignment is due by Tuesday at midnight and the second part is due by Thursday at midnight, the third part is due by Friday at midnight.

Part 1 (Due Tuesday) - In a reply to this post, type your name, your hometown, and THREE facts about yourself. Two of these facts should be TRUE and the other fact should be a LIE. Here's an example...

Dr. [Name of Professor]
Fort Worth, TX

- 1 - I was in a sorority in college.
- 2 - I love exploring abandoned buildings.
- 3 - I love playing softball.

Part 2 (Due Thursday) - Now, it's your turn to GUESS each person's lie. In a reply to their post, type the number corresponding to with the "lie".

Part 3 (Due Friday) - We are almost finished with this assignment! Now it is time to REVEAL your lie to your classmates! Post a reply to your original post with the actual lie!

For example, the lie in this assignment was "3 - I love playing softball".

Items to consider - You might want to continue to monitor the discussion board because this assignment (like any online assignment) has the potential to lean away from the content of the course. In addition, you might want to monitor any potential sensitive posts that might arise during the week.
